About Moves in the Field

Comprised of mandatory patterns on full ice, Moves in the Field (MIF) challenges skaters to develop skills with control, power, edge quality, flow, rhythm, and extension. MIF training is required for all disciplines of figure skating.

The goal of the Pre-Preliminary MIF class is to prepare the skater to take the first test at an upcoming US Figure Skating test session. Test sessions are held regularly at area skating rinks.

This class also serves as a "bridge" to participate on freestyle sessions to learn skating etiquette and share the ice with skaters working at a faster pace.

Required Elements of Pre-Preliminary MIF Test:

- ◆ Perimeter Stroking
- ◆ Basic Consecutive Edges
 - ⇒ Forward Outside
 - ⇒ Forward Inside
 - ⇒ Backward Outside
 - ⇒ Backward Inside
- ◆ Forward Right & Left foot Spiral
- ◆ Waltz Eight Pattern

Skaters move at their own pace through the MIF tests. There is no "right or wrong" amount of time that it takes to advance to the next level.

A Skater is required to have a USFS membership to take any tests.

Please contact Jill@BucksIce.com for more information about joining US Figure Skating.
